

Defense Mobilizer Says U. S. Is Headed For Better Future

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON — (AP)—Defense Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson said last night "unless we tarnish our destiny by fear, disunity and improvidence" Americans can look to better than ever future, "ready for all-out war or all-out peace."

In his first report to the nation on "the state of mobilization" Wilson called for a giant effort during the next three years to build up unprecedented productive strength. He spoke over a nationwide radio hookup.

No Profitmaking
The chief mobilizer promised war to extinction on profiteering and inflation, strongly backed President Truman's request for a quick new tax levy, said without elaboration that wage policies are being modified, hinted at the necessity for changing farm price protection and promised swift production of the mightiest arsenal the world has ever seen.

Wilson indicated, in pegging his estimates and predictions to the next two or three years, that the nation may be over the hump of its task by then—barring, as he repeatedly said, all-out war.

He discussed some of the thorniest problems of mobilization, but his speech was obviously aimed at balancing atomic age terrors, congressional wrangles, loyalty quizzes and battle reports with a faith that the nation's problems are only a measure of its opportunities.

Capacity Unlimited
"This nation of ours is in a sound position," he said, adding, "my greatest hope is that you will come to share with me my own profound confidence in our ability to take a storm, to weather it, and to come out with strength and vigor."

A provident, fearless and united American people, he said, "can look forward to Capacity Unlimited . . . This is an age which again calls for bold minds and not for little men."

The former president of the General Electric company plunged, boldly into his views on the difficulties and sacrifices involved in mobilization for "peace through strength."

"What is the job?" he asked. "First—To preserve peace by rapidly building up our own defense forces and those of other free nations, to such a height that Russia will refrain from attack."

"Second—To expand our capacity for producing military supplies so that we may swing rapidly into full-scale war production if . . . a major war should come."

"Third—To maintain and expand our basic economic strength . . . So that we can sustain a defense effort for a number of years, if that should be necessary, and at the same time make our whole economy stronger and more productive."

"We are going to ask the most abundant economy in the world to produce, in the next two or three years, an extra 150 billions for defense," Wilson declared. He gave as "examples of a productive capacity that will be our best guarantee of lasting peace" goals of 35,000 tanks a year and 18,000 jet engines a month. In both cases the aim was capacity to produce, not necessarily production of the amounts Wilson named.

Liquor Control And Legislators Good Pals Again

Romance Patched Up
By Ann Arbor Man

By JACK I. GREEN
LANSING — (AP)—Credit a relaxed, lantern-jawed young man from Ann Arbor with Dorothy Dixing the busted romance between the legislature and the state liquor control commission.

He's George J. Burke, Jr., the quiet hand-patting from his new liquor chairman, with some equally new commission colleague, Allan B. Milham, of Kalamazoo, the commission and the lawmakers are now honeymooning again.

Lots Of Patronage
The legislature would like to love the liquor commission. There is so much political pap and so many chances to make friends back home that the lawmakers would simply love to be friends always.

Normally, the commission isn't too hard to get, either. There are appropriations and peace of mind to be found up there on that little rise they call "Capitol Hill" in Lansing.

But for about two years, the two parties have been pouting and telling their friends unkind stories about each other.

It only took Burke and Milham about five short weeks to bring the bloom back into everybody's cheeks.

Savvy Pays Off
This is one of the wonders of the "new day" in the capitol.

It should pay off in better public relations for the commission and in fewer unpleasant newspaper headlines.

It goes to prove what a little political savvy can do.

For two years the commission was directed by Johnny Kozaren,

Congress Hunting RFC Loan Fixers On Its Doorstep

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON — (AP)—A Senate subcommittee investigation into huge government loans seemed likely today to start a new hunt for influence peddlers' tracks on Congress' own doorstep.

It already has charged that the sponsor of "political favoritism" can be followed to the desk of a White House aide—a charge which stung President Truman to retort that the accusation was asinine.

Roused To Wrath
Disclosure yesterday that Mr. Truman had quietly obtained from Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) files 700 to 900 letters, mostly written by Senate and House members about RFC loans, roused the subcommittee to wrath. Its members chorused accusations that this was a retaliatory attempt to intimidate Congress and the subcommittee.

Put Mr. Truman last night topped off a day of dramatic developments in the controversy with what looked like a peace overture and possibly a hint as to how Congress could cut short the inquiry without losing face.

Joseph Short, White House press secretary, announced the President "knows of no evidence of illegal influence of the RFC" by anyone in Congress or any members of his staff.

Short said: "This material was requested by the President for his examination and review in connection with his plans for reorganization of the RFC." Short did not explain why such material would be of value to his chief. The reorganization plan mentioned would abolish the jobs of the RFC board of directors and put a one man boss over the agency to pass on loans.

But the fact that the President called for the material raised the probability the subcommittee will explore anew and more deeply the question of how far a congressman may properly go to urge the lending of public funds. Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.), the subcommittee chairman, said the group found no answer to that in its first round of inquiries into RFC policies.

Cowboy Singer Snaps Whip, Cuts Himself

LONDON — (AP)—Singer Howard Jones, dressed as a cowboy from the wild west, yippee-eyed onto the stage of a theatre in suburban Shepherd's Bush last night. He flourished a 12-foot bull whip, and cracked it.

Then the show stopped while Jones went off stage for temporary repairs to his forehead, cut by the whip's backlash.

Anti-Red Guerrilla Chief Caught, China Communists Claim

HONG KONG — (AP)—The Red China radio announced today the capture of an anti-Communist guerrilla chieftain described as an agent for U. S. "Imperialists."

The guerrilla was identified only as Wusman. He was reported seized just south of the mysterious, shrouded far western province of Sinkiang where the Reds said Wusman operated.

The Peiping radio said Wusman was captured at Haizui, across Sinkiang's southern border, in Sinkiang province. He probably will die soon before a firing squad.

"Agents" Executed
The broadcast said 100 of Wusman's followers also were captured.

At the same time, Communist dispatches from China said five "Nationalist" agents were executed in Canton Friday. They included Hsu Ta. He was described as a graduate of the U. S. Military staff college and later a Nationalist intelligence officer who stayed in China to work with guerrillas.

The Reds last year linked Wusman with the late Douglas MacKiernan, U. S. vice consul in Sinkiang.

Alleged Briber In Tax Tangle

Sollazzo Stuck With $1,128,493 Lien

by EUGENE LEVIN
NEW YORK — (AP)—The government has slapped $1,128,493 income tax lien against Salvatore T. Sollazzo, the alleged briber behind basketball's big "fix."

The federal action yesterday froze the assets of the 45-year-old Sollazzo and presented the possibility that treasury agents would question him on his income tax returns.

It was learned that the intelligence unit of the treasury department had started checking Sollazzo's books and accounts months ago. Although the tax lien action involved no criminal charges against Sollazzo, the intelligence unit usually handles only those cases involving fraud or willful tax evasion.

An ex-convict, Sollazzo is being held without bail on charges he bribed eight college cage stars to fix local basketball games during the last two seasons. The players—from Long Island University, City College of New York, and New York university—allegedly have admitted receiving at least $25,000 in bribes from Sollazzo.

The income tax lien against Sollazzo lists allegedly unpaid taxes, amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars, for each of the years from 1943 through 1947.

Truck Licenses May Be Boosted

Road Funds Debated In Michigan Senate

LANSING — (AP)—Michigan's Senate, having tentatively agreed to boost the gasoline tax paid by all motorists, now is leveling its sights on the license fees paid by truckers and farmers.

The Senate yesterday wrangled over the amount of tax increase which should be charged heavy vehicles and then laid the problem aside for more debate next week. The legislature recessed for the weekend.

The debate was part of a week-long argument over the seven-bill package prepared by the Michigan Good Roads Federation. It would achieve highway administrative changes and raise $36,000,000 more in taxes, $4,500,000 of them from the weight (license) tax paid by commercial and farm vehicles.

The federation plan would increase taxes on trucks over 8,000 pounds 25 to 150 per cent, depending upon their classification. Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale) filed amendments to scale down all the proposed increases, asserting truckers already would be hit hard by the increased gas tax.

Senator Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) objected, saying "We know the people know that the heavy trucks are damaging our highways. If you doubled or tripled their license fees it would not come near compensating for the damage they do. I will not vote for any increased gas taxes until I see that the trucks are dealt with fairly."

Isolationism Rapped; Dewey Backs Sending Of Troops To Europe

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey urged Congress today not to "haul down the flag" by barring the sending of American troops to Europe.

The New York governor told the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees approval of a resolution by Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, "would paralyze the capacity of this nation for its own defense."

Not All Approval
Wherry has proposed that the Senate record itself is opposed to the president's dispatching any more divisions to join the North Atlantic defense force until Congress passed on the policy involved. Dewey, the 1948 Republican

Televised Crime Quiz Big Show In St. Louis Saloons

ST. LOUIS — (AP)—The Senate crime committee resumed its study of interstate betting today after stirring up interest like a baseball world series.

Television cameras recorded yesterday's opening session of the committee's two-day public hearing. Live telecasts attracted large barroom crowds here and in East St. Louis, Ill.

Takes In $7,000,000

The crime committee, headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), contends St. Louis is the focal point for gigantic bookmaking operations. Witnesses estimated yesterday that two establishments, operating through facilities of Western Union, have grossed as high as $7,000,000 a year.

Harry E. Vermillion, manager of Western Union in St. Louis, testified that one establishment, known as C. J. Rich Co., did business amounting to about $250,000 a month via Western Union.

The place was closed after a raid last May. Its owners, Sidney Wyman and C. J. Rich, testified but neither would divulge the nature of the business.

Handled By Wire
Vermillion said a second establishment had done business via Western Union in East St. Louis and was operated by one John Mooney, described as associate of James J. Carroll, nationally known as a betting commissioner. Carroll, subpoenaed to appear, was reported ill in Florida.

Vermillion told reporters that during 1950 a total of $3,275,000 was sent to Mooney's office in transactions handled by Western Union.

State Capitol Hazards Listed

Housekeeping Sloppy In Lansing Offices

LANSING — (AP)—"Deplorable" fire hazards in the 72-year-old state capitol building were listed in a fire marshal's inspection report handed to Governor Williams yesterday.

The report cited the lack of fire doors, unsafe stairways, piles of combustible materials littering stairways and "deplorable housekeeping" in the venerable building.

"A most serious hazard to life is presented by the employment of 140 persons on the fourth floor without a safe means of egress from the building," said the report by State Fire Marshal Arnold C. Renner.

"If a flash fire occurred in the basement or on the first floor, persons on upper floors might not be able to escape."

"The building would be badly damaged by fire as on each floor there are storage rooms without fire walls or fire doors which contain large amounts of combustible material."

"If a fire occurred it would be as difficult to extinguish as was the fire on the mezzanine floor of the state office building," Renner noted.

The report called for a number of alterations to the building, better all-around housekeeping and a complete reworking of the building as recommended in a previous report that was ignored.

Corps Loses Commander

The U. S. Ninth corps lost its commander Saturday.

Maj. Gen. Bryant E. Moore died after he had walked away from his crashed helicopter. The craft lost power and plunged into the Han river north of Yaju on the west central front.

Moore was helped ashore but collapsed and died in the van of Brig. Gen. H. J. Myers, 24th division artillery commander. It was not immediately determined whether Moore died of injuries or a heart attack.

Commander Of Corps Drops Dead In Korea

WEST CENTRAL FRONT
KOREA — (AP)—Maj. Gen. Bryant E. Moore, commander of the United States 9th Corps, died today after he walked away from his crashed helicopter in the Han river north of Yaju.

General Moore collapsed and died in the van of Brig. Gen. H.J.D. Myers, 24th division artillery commander. It was not immediately determined whether Moore died of crash injuries or a heart attack.

The helicopter plummeted into the Han river as it lost power suddenly. Both the general and his pilot were helped ashore by troops from a U. S. engineer unit camped along the river.

The general was able to walk ashore and was taken to General Myers' van before collapsing.

General Moore's body was flown to a field hospital and then to his command post where an honor guard waited.

The 56-year-old Moore was named commander of the ninth corps less than two weeks ago during the recent Chinese Red offensive on the central front. The Ninth corps was on the west flank of that smash.

Moore was superintendent of the U. S. military academy at West Point until shortly before his appointment to succeed Maj. Gen. J. B. Coulter as corps commander was disclosed Feb. 13.

Moore was the fourth general lost by United Nations forces in Korea.

Jets Cross Oceans At 400 MPH; U. S. To Build Atom Plane Engine

WASHINGTON — (AP)—With jet bombers already zipping across two oceans at a 400-mile-per-hour clip, the United States is negotiating for actual construction of the world's first known atom-powered aircraft engine.

Plans for the atom-driven engine were disclosed yesterday, with air force permission, by the General Electric company. A GE spokesman said contractual negotiations for the nuclear power plant "are under way."

The announcement was made shortly after the arrival here of an English-made Canberra jet bomber which streaked across the North Atlantic Wednesday in four hours and 40 minutes.

When the air force disclosed that one of its B-47 stratojet bombers spanned the Pacific to Honolulu Thursday in something under six hours for an average speed above 400 miles an hour.

In winging here from the end of its record-breaking flight from Ireland to Newfoundland, the Canberra covered 1,325 miles in three hours and ten minutes. Its pilot said air speed averaged between 450 and 500 miles an hour.

Actual production of atom-powered engines is expected to take several years. However, General Hoyt Vandenberg, air chief of staff, said recently atomic flight is closer than most people realize.

Officials say an atom-powered plane would have range almost unlimited and almost incredible speed. They observed there are

Bear Bout Interrupts Detroit Circus Act

DETROIT—(AP)—Two bears, interrupting their act, got into a fight at the Shrine circus Thursday.

The damage wasn't too severe. One of the battlers, a black bear, required stitches in a lip. The other, a polar bear, got off with a torn ear.

They tangled for about ten minutes, however, before their trainer could separate them with whip and gun.

It was the second animal fight within three days at the circus. A lion killed a tiger in a circus ring Monday.

Closing Of VA Offices Rapped

Escanaba Legion Post Joins In Protest

A resolution protesting the contemplated closing of Veterans Administration offices in Escanaba, Marquette and the Soo has been adopted by the Escanaba American Legion post and copies of the resolution have been sent to Rep. Potter, the Veterans Administration, and to department headquarters of the Legion.

The local resolution points out that the Upper Peninsula VA offices serve a vast area, with around 50,000 veterans, and that closing of the service will be false economy. Local organizations would be burdened with veterans' affairs if the VA pulls out, and these organizations do not have the funds, time or knowledge to properly administer the affairs of veterans.

The Escanaba resolution is signed by W. J. Henderson, commander of Cloverland post 82, and William E. Butler, adjutant.

Couple Racing Stork Duck Police Bullets; Father Gets Ticket

DETROIT — (AP) — A young couple racing the stork to a maternity hospital had to duck police bullets in suburban Lincoln park.

Donald (Mickey) Odom, 23, got his wife Dorothy, 24, to the hospital just five minutes ahead of the stork after a wild, 80 mile an hour ride.

Patrolman Gene Gullion saw the car flash by on a main thoroughfare and gave chase. He had no idea that it was a race with the stork.

Two bullets smashed through the rear window of the car and went through the windshield, barely missing the Odom's heads.

Gullion said he fired one warning shot and fired again when the car failed to stop.

Wisconsin Central Will Inaugurate DC-3 Flight Service Next Thursday

Ceremonies at 16 cities in four states March 1 will officially signal the inauguration of DC-3 flight service for Wisconsin Central Airlines.

President Francis M. Higgins said that five other cities on the route of the feeder line would have DC-3 service by the end of 1951. Higgins said the 21-passenger DC-3's would replace nine Lockheed 10A's the airline has been using for passenger and mail service.

Noon at Escanaba
Civic officials of Chicago, Madison, Milwaukee and Houghton, Michigan, will participate in the major ceremonies at their respective cities. Other ceremonies at intermediate points on the line's route will, of necessity, be brief because the planes will be operating on a regular schedule which allows only 2 minutes to load and unload passengers and mail and cargo. The program at Escanaba will be at 12:06 noon.

A "progressive exchange" of messages and gifts between communities on the route will feature the ceremonies in Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan. Mayors of the cities along the route will present the mayor of the city at the next stop with messages and products symbolic of the city's industry. Gov. Walter Kohler of Wisconsin will also send messages to each of the mayors on the DC-3 route.

Two DC-3's will participate in the inaugural flight. One will start at Chicago, fly to Houghton, Mich., and return to Chicago. The other will leave from Minneapolis, carrying airline President Higgins among its 21 passengers, fly to Chicago, return to Madison to be officially christened, fly to Milwaukee for ceremonies, and return to Chicago.

Newspapermen from each of the cities on the Minneapolis-Chicago leg of the flight will fly to Chicago for ceremonies at Midway airport, while newspapermen from cities along the Chicago-Houghton route will be in the DC-3 that makes that flight.

Honorary Flight Captain

Honorary flight captain on the Chicago-Madison flight will be Tommy Bartlett, former Milwaukee radio artist, and now a Chicago NBC network radio and television star. Bartlett, a former Milwaukee radio artist, and now a Chicago NBC network radio and television star. Bartlett, a former commercial airline pilot, will wear an official Wisconsin Central Airlines pilot's uniform, and will participate in ceremonies at Chicago, Madison and Milwaukee.

C. of C. to Participate
Wisconsin Central is being assisted in arrangements at all stops by officials of the various Chambers of Commerce along the line's route.

The 21-passenger DC-3's, modified for short-haul, short-stop operations required on Wisconsin Central's local service routes, have been added because of the demand for increased passenger service, according to Higgins.

The airline official said that since the start of Wisconsin Central operations in 1948, the airline had flown more than 99,000 passengers, over 900,000 pounds of air mail and parcel post, and 1,311,123 pounds of express, and has operated with a perfect record of safety.

"The inauguration of Wisconsin Central service provided direct air service between Chicago and 21 new cities in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota which had no previous air service of any description," Higgins said.

All Safety Devices
The DC-3's will carry special electronic safety and navigational devices, including radar, dual automatic direction finders, static-free radio transmitters and receivers.

In addition to the finest navigational equipment, the DC-3's will include terrain indicators, safety devices which enable pilots to note changes in the altitude of the earth's contour.

Wisconsin Central was described by Higgins as the "longest privately owned and operated airline in the country." He said the 21 communities served exclusively by Wisconsin Central had invested more than $8 million in the last three years in improving the DC-3's equipment. He said the last airport was completed only last fall.

Couple Found Shot In Car At Pontiac

PONTIAC, Mich.—(P)—The bodies of a Mexican man and woman, both of whom had been shot to death, were found in a parked car at 2 a. m. on the city's outskirts Friday.

Police identified the two as Concepcion Perez, 40, and Seliciano J. Perez, 50, both of Pontiac. Apparently Seliciano had shot the woman and then himself, police said.

Detective John DePauw and Patrolman William Hanger, Jr., said relatives told them the two had been having a love affair. Seliciano they said, was the uncle of the woman.

A .41 caliber Colt revolver, apparently of a frontier type, was used Concepcion was shot in the forehead, above her left eyes, and Seliciano was shot in the left temple.

Accidents Cause Minor Injuries

Motorist Is Fined For Drunk Driving

Two Tremay residents suffered minor injuries and a Gladstone couple escaped injury following accidents in Escanaba yesterday afternoon.

Injured were Frank Koresch of Tremay who suffered cuts over his left eye and on his left knee, and Audrey Revis of Tremay, who had a minor head injury.

Koresch, who is receiving treatment in St. Francis hospital, was the driver of a car which was struck in the rear shortly after noon yesterday by a car driven by Mrs. Fred Weber of Escanaba, Route One.

Mrs. Weber told police her foot slipped on the brake. After the Weber car hit Koresch, the Koresch car hit an auto driven by Axel Swanson of 1311 First avenue south, which in turn hit a car driven by Lency Clairmont, 720 South 10th street. The three cars hit were stopped for the red light at the intersection of Ludington street and Stephenson avenue.

Arvo M. Erickson of 1108 South 15th street, driver of a car which crashed into the rear of a car driven by Daniel O. Sheeran of Gladstone yesterday afternoon, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of drunk driving this morning.

Driver Arrested
Erickson, who was arrested by Escanaba police following the accident near the Wells road on U. S. 2-41, pleaded guilty in justice court. He was assessed a fine of $100, plus court costs, and his operator's license was revoked.

Harold Prigge of Route One, Stonington, a passenger in the Erickson car, was fined $15 plus court costs for disorderly conduct. The rear end of the Sheeran car was extensively damaged. Following the accident Mrs. Sheeran, who was in the car with her husband, was taken to St. Francis hospital for x-rays. She is now at home in Gladstone.

Other accidents reported yesterday was a collision of cars driven by Ray W. McGinnis of 1302 First avenue south and Benjamin Woodard of 211 North 16th street, near the 11th and Ludington street intersection. McGinnis was backing from the curb, police report.

Trunks of California's giant redwoods are usually 75 to 100 feet from the base to the first branch.

Grand Marais Man Injured In Freak Accident

GRAND MARAIS—Charles Chilson, Grand Marais businessman suffered bruises about the back and hips and severe cuts above the knee on the right leg when a falling limb struck him in the back and pushed him forward into a working power saw.

The accident occurred Wednesday morning about 11 o'clock at the Nelson camp west of Grand Marais. Mr. Chilson and his partner Matt Nyman, also of Grand Marais, were falling a tree when the large limb, ten inches in diameter and approximately 12 feet long fell from a height of 40 feet.

Mr. Chilson was rushed to Manistique where 30 stitches were taken to close the crossed gash in his leg. X-rays revealed no fractures to his back and hips. He is confined to bed at his home.

Mr. Chilson and his wife operate a restaurant and a trolling cruiser.

Meat Prices May Continue High

DES MOINES—(P)—The strong demand for meat is expected to hold prices above last year's mark, according to the Iowa State College Extension Service in its monthly farm outlook. However, a nine per cent larger 1950 pig crop will soon begin to move to market in larger numbers, which may hold pork prices at a moderate level, the service reports.

With feed prices rising, the service says, only moderately favorable hog-corn ratio can be expected this year. A moderate increase in the 1951 spring pig crop is in the offing if farmers follow through with their intentions, the report states.

Hospital

Mrs. Joseph LaChapelle, 314 South 14th street, submitted to surgery at St. Francis hospital this morning.

The rear end of the Sheeran car was extensively damaged. Following the accident Mrs. Sheeran, who was in the car with her husband, was taken to St. Francis hospital for x-rays. She is now at home in Gladstone.

Other accidents reported yesterday was a collision of cars driven by Ray W. McGinnis of 1302 First avenue south and Benjamin Woodard of 211 North 16th street, near the 11th and Ludington street intersection. McGinnis was backing from the curb, police report.

Trunks of California's giant redwoods are usually 75 to 100 feet from the base to the first branch.

Barley Tests Succeed Here

Moore Variety Rated As Best For U. P.

Emerging out of three years' tests at Chatham and two in county plantings, including three test plots in Delta last year, is Moore barley variety with a recommendation for planting in the Upper Peninsula.

Moore is a new variety that may change the declining interest in barley planting among U. P. farmers, believes Arthur Wolcott, farms crops and soils specialist of Michigan State College. Barley acreage has been decreasing steadily for the past 20 years.

Undependable performance of a series of varieties tried, including Spartan, Wisconsin 38 and Bay, may be the reason, said Wolcott.

The new variety, Moore, should put good barley land back into barley production, Wolcott said.

Last year Moore variety test plots were grown in Delta county on the farms of Emil Mosier at Danforth, Constant Catmeyer and Peter Bruntjens at St. Nicholas. J. L. Heirman, Delta agricultural agent, assisted them in obtaining certified seed for the plots, which were visited during the year by crops specialists.

Moore has a heavy, stiff straw and moderate resistance to foot rot which enables it to stand up where Bay and Wisconsin 38 lodge severely. It does not shatter as readily and has more resistance to steer rust. Where disease is not a factor, Moore yields about the same as Wisconsin 38. Its improved disease resistance makes it more dependable.

Burma Starts New Anti-Rebel Action

RANGOON—(P)—The Burmese government will impose a system of collective punishment upon specific north Burma areas to discourage support to rebels, says a Mandalay report.

The scheme will begin in areas whose inhabitants have withheld information regarding rebels destroying communications and otherwise engaged in anti-government operations. It is expected to hit hardest at villages along the railroad. These villages are suspected of harbouring rebels engaged in sabotage.

Annual Sessions of Legislature Will Be Up to Voters April 2

A proposed revision of the Michigan constitution to permit annual sessions of the state legislature will be submitted to voters of the state on April 2. Other proposals to be presented at the same time provide for a $500 death benefit to the nearest relative of Michigan servicemen killed in the Korean war and for immediate $3,000 annual pay raises for state supreme court justices.

The proposal for annual sessions of the state legislature is designed to meet a serious problem that has developed because of the obsolescence of the present Michigan constitution. The constitution, written at a time when travel conditions were difficult and the state's official business was not as complex as it is today, provides for meetings of the legislature every two years. Special sessions called by the governor may be held at other times.

In practice, the legislature now meets every year but the off-year sessions are subject to virtually complete control of the governor. The lawmakers are forbidden from acting on any matters not brought before them specifically by the chief executive. The restriction has not worked for the best interests of the state. For one thing, it makes the off-year sessions extremely political.

The people of Michigan should remove this restriction by approving the proposed amendment to the constitution in the April 2 election. Lawmakers then would be free to meet specific problems of the state as they arise, without restrictions from the governor's office. It is one way to remove the legislative shackles which last year prevented the solution to the critical highway problem in Michigan.

Improvements At St. Francis Hospital

IMPROVEMENTS of facilities at St. Francis hospital here, including plans for establishing a blood bank, provide positive evidence that hospital authorities are anxious to make the Escanaba institution one of the finest and most completely equipped in the Upper Peninsula.

In addition to the improvement of laboratory and other facilities at the hospital, the authorities have announced the appointment of a registered dietitian, one of the steps necessary to qualify the hospital for approval by the American College of Surgeons.

The developments at St. Francis hospital are encouraging to the community and to the area served by the hospital.

You Can't Trust The Kremlin

IN the interview he granted recently to Pravda, Premier Stalin sounded very much like a faded copy of that Russian newspaper.

Except for his special attack on Prime Minister Attlee and the British, it was the old familiar line. The Western nations, not the Soviet Union, are "thirsting for a new world war." They are building up armaments while the peace-loving Russians concentrate their energies on wonderful domestic projects for the people.

The Russians do not have a big army as the West contends, their armed forces were demobilized in successive stages since 1945. (What are those 175 divisions in uniform, Mr. Stalin? Telegraph messenger boys?)

Then, too, it is the United States which is destroying the United Nations, and the United States which is the aggressor in Korea.

Strangely, Stalin added that if our leaders did not accept the Chinese Red proposals for settlement in Korea, our forces would be doomed to defeat. Since these armies are now doing pretty well against the Chinese and North Koreans, who is to bring about this defeat? The unarmed, demobilized, peace-loving Russians?

Why has Stalin troubled to repeat these foolish lies? Some observers see it as a new attempt to divide the Western powers. Yet the sharp skepticism which greeted Stalin's professions of peace in London, Washington and Paris make plain that no Western leaders are any longer deceived by these threadbare fantasies.

If the Soviet premier had that aim, he has sadly misjudged the state of mind of Western officialdom.

Very possibly he has thus erred. But his remarks may have been designed principally for home consumption. The Kremlin is under constant need of justifying to the Russian people the harsh measures of Communist control. How better than to have the boss talk of Soviet peace aims in tones of injured innocence, the while he deplores the "war-like" activities of the "hostile" West?

Whatever Stalin's purpose, he has instructed us again on one vital matter. He has shown once more the futility of "sitting down with Stalin" to work out a peaceful settlement of world problems.

One or two observers apparently felt surprise that Stalin sounded so much like his own lieutenants and propagandists. Did they imagine these men uttered any views which he did not approve? It is immature, wishful thinking to suppose that Stalin is somehow more reasonable, more temperate than the men who answer to him.

Futile Painting

By Gordon Martin

When you have a day away from work with time to do some chores, you decide it would be wise to paint some windows and some doors. So you mix your paint and turpentine and then prepare your brush, and you're glad, for once, you've got a job at which you needn't rush. But no sooner are you working than your outlook changes quick, for you find you're interrupted every time you paint a lick.

First you're wanted on the telephone, and much to your dismay it develops that your caller hasn't anything to say. But while making conversation, from your wife there comes complaint, that your messy hands are surely smearing everything with paint. Back to work you go disgruntled but you've hardly made a start, when your youngest comes demanding that you mend her broken heart.

So you settle youthful problems and once more pour brush you ply, but you're pestered by a peddler who's a loud, offensive guy. You must also stop and move your stuff, which blocks your auto's way, when your wife must leave for luncheon and the bridge she's got to play. It's in great disgust you give it up and wonder why it's true, every time you want to paint you've got a million things to do.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Only fragmentary details have been cabled to the Pentagon, but open fighting has been reported between the Chinese Communists and North Koreans.

Generally these skirmishes have been discounted by American intelligence as accidental. It isn't unusual for trigger-happy troops to open fire on their own men by mistake.

However, at least one incident has been reported as a revolt against the Chinese. This was a shooting scrape between Chinese Communists and North Koreans on January 19 behind enemy lines. The Chinese quickly crushed the revolt after killing 150 North Koreans.

Meanwhile, hints of friction among our enemies continue to filter across the 38th parallel. American intelligence officers do not believe a serious rift is imminent. However, they have detected a strange inferiority complex toward the Chinese among the Koreans—a combination of fear and hatred.

This is particularly true of South Korean troops, who fight fiercely against the North Koreans but seem to crumble under Chinese attack. Except for the South Korean wing that has advanced up the east coast under the supporting guns of the U. S. navy, the South Koreans have not won a major victory against the Chinese.

As a result, Lt. Gen. Matt Ridgway has now assigned South Korean patrols to count the Chinese dead. The psychological effect is to convince them that the Chinese are not supermen. Ridgway is also rotating South Korean units, integrating them with American units for a few weeks. The purpose is to bolster their confidence by experiencing victory over the Chinese.

TENSE PRESIDENT

White House insiders are privately concerned by a dramatic change in Harry Truman. Once easy-going and warm-hearted, he is now tense and irritable. They attribute the change to the understandable strain of near war and the terrific burden placed on every president of the United States.

The president always had occasional moods of anger and bitterness. But, according to insiders, these have increased steadily in the past six months.

A visit with Mr. Truman used to be a real treat for a congressman or a visiting Elk. The president would greet him with a smile, pat him at ease with a friendly comment, and listen sympathetically. Today, however, Mr. Truman is likely to drum the desk impatiently and break into the conversation with a savage denunciation of a real or imagined foe.

Recent visitors have been startled by the vigor and bluntness of his venom at Sen. Bill Fulbright, who hit at White House favoritism in the RFC.

The president's physician, Dr. Wallace Graham, is also worried by Mr. Truman's inability to relax and take those refreshing naps which helped him so much in the past.

Since the attempt on his life Mr. Truman has also shown an understandable reluctance to get out before the public. Congressional leaders and Democratic chieftains have been begging him to stump the country in support of his foreign policy. To this he recently replied:

"It's not up to me to go out. It's the responsibility of the Democratic party and our congressmen. They're laying down on the job and expect him to do everything." Close friends of the president lay his irritability and tenseness to three factors:

1. The assassination attempt of the two Puerto Rican Nationalists. This left a deep scar. The president often talks among his intimates of this assassination attempt and what he would do if another attempt were made on his life.
2. The recent period of continued American defeats in Korea and the mass evacuation was more trying on Mr. Truman than even he cares to admit. The responsibility for this has weighed heavily on his mind.
3. The loss of Press Secretary Charles Ross was a heavy blow to Mr. Truman. Ross was an old and completely devoted friend who could soothe the president or give him common-sense advice.

This change in the president has convinced Democratic bigwigs that he definitely will not run again, but will retire in 1953.

Kansas City: Please give the origin of the word hockey, the name of the game.

A. The origin of hockey is a little in doubt; but it probably came from the Old French word hoquet, "shepherd's crook."

Fresno: Would you tell the world (hoping to catch the eyes of many broadcasters) how to pronounce the word laboratory correctly?—H. B. O'R.

A. The common mispronunciation is "LAB-uh-taw-ree," which is not a great deal stranger-sounding than the British "luh-BORE-uh-tree." In Standard American laboratory is: LOB'ruh-TOR-ee; or, less frequently: LAB'uh-ruh-TOR-ee.

Q. Occasionally I come across the term "Boston Brahmin." Lucius Beebe, in his "Boston and the Boston Legend," speaks of Oliver Wendell Holmes as, "... a Brahmin among Brahmins, tracing his lineage to Anne Bradstreet of Puritan days." What is the meaning of the term?—A. W. P.

A. Brahmin is a variant spelling of Brahman. A Brahman is "a member of the highest, or priestly, caste among the Hindus."—American College Dictionary.

In American usage, Brahmin designates a person of superintellect and culture; hence, derogatorily, "a snob; an aloof intellectual."

Omaha: My given name is Patricia. People insist on calling me "pa-TREE-shuh" despite the fact that I keep telling them there is no "tree" in Patricia.—Mrs. J.

A. People, there is no "tree" in Patricia. The name means, "noble; a patrician." It should be pronounced: puh-TRISH-uh. And the word patrician is: puh-TRISH-un.

Cyprus Is Key to Western Defense Network; Red Influence Powerful

KEY TO THE MEDITERRANEAN is strategically within bombing range of Red-controlled oil fields located Cyprus. Arrows show how the island is in Romania and the Baku region, and can also guard the Middle Eastern oil area and the Suez Canal.

By LEON DENNEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — The heavy Communist inroads among the people of Cyprus take on new importance now that the United States has decided to establish air bases on that strategic eastern Mediterranean island.

With Moscow's creeping "permanence" shifting closer to the Mediterranean, U. S. intelligence sources view Cyprus as the weakest link in the ring of anti-Communist nations running from Britain to Turkey.

A British colony, Cyprus has a predominantly Greek population of close to 500,000. But from 30 to 40 per cent of these, according to Allied estimates, are either members of the Communist "Akel" (Progressive Workers Party) or closely allied with it.

Bushy-haired and graying Ezekias Papaioannu, the Communist powerful commissar of the island, claims at least 55 per cent of the Cypriots would support Soviet Russia in a war with the West.

Only 70 miles from Turkey, Cyprus is a vital key in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's network of defense posts stretching from Tripoli in North Africa to Mauritius Island in the Indian Ocean.

U. S. jet planes based on Cyprus will be able to guard the approaches to the Suez Canal and the rich oil area of the Middle East. At the same time, bombers will be within range of Moscow's Eastern empire, especially the oil fields of Romania and Baku.

Irving Brown, European representative of the American Federation of Labor, says about 9000 workers—75 per cent of Cyprus' organized labor—are members of the Pan-Cypriot Federation of Labor controlled by the Communist World Federation of Trade Unions.

In addition, more than 400 organized and well-armed secret commandos are ready, at a sign from the Communist, to commit anti-U. S. acts of sabotage and violence.

Informed U. S. sources say that Communist activity in Cyprus ranked high on the agenda of U. S. Air Force Secretary Thomas K. Finletter and George W. McGhee, assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern and African Affairs, who just concluded a series of conferences in Istanbul, Turkey.

There has been constant friction between British administrators of Cyprus and most of the Greek population which seeks union ("enosis") with Greece proper. This has also played into the hands of the Communist.

Colonial government's passive attitude is largely blamed for the rapid spread of Communism.

Only anti-Communist force in Cyprus at present is the Greek Orthodox Church which, however, staunchly supports "enosis." And it is against the church that the entire fury of the Communist is now directed.

Particularly violent are the attacks of the clandestine Communist radio "Free Greece," said to be located in Albania.

Meanwhile, Moscow edged closer to the Suez Canal and gained another bloodless victory in the Near East when the Communist succeeded in organizing a "Committee of Peace Partisans" in Egypt.

Members of this Committee, as reported in the influential newspaper Al-Misri on Jan. 12, include Mahmud Sidqui Pasha, former Egyptian Minister of Communications; Muhammad Kamel al-Bindary Pasha, former Ambassador to the U. S. S. R., and Faiz Bey Nabarawy, a representative of the Arab women's movement.

More than 15,000 Egyptians are said to have signed the Soviet-sponsored "Stockholm Appeal" for outlawing the atom bomb.

Expert observers of Soviet affairs see the "peace committee" as additional proof that Moscow is preparing to launch a series of "limited wars" in the eastern Mediterranean.

Letters From The People

Wants More McCarthys

Dear Editor:

I couldn't help being amused, at Confused, when a dumb person, like me, knows, why don't others know? To begin with, Dear Confused, if you or I had to live in Russia, we'd wish we were here again, with a lot more McCarthys.

Now I didn't hear his speech, but I read it. At least he is one hundred per cent American. For myself, I'd feel safer if we had more like him in high places.

Did you ever hear of fighting fire with fire. When a big fire gets out of control, a little one that can be controlled is built, and when the big one gets there, all is burned up, so it goes out. I know a sure way to straighten ourselves out. I'll guarantee this.

Read Proverbs, and compare it with our leaders. All the deceit lies, drunkenness spoke of in Proverbs are there in high places. Solomon, the wisest king in the world, was given his wisdom from God. He wrote Proverbs. Proverbs 16th chapter 7th verse, "When a man's ways please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him." If we want freedom let's fight for it, not knock down someone who is fighting for it. When there aren't any McCarthys, watch Stalin in Washington.

Don't get me wrong. I don't like fat politicians either, but when they're on the right side, we need those little fires to fight that big one now. As you say, let's think.

Wise Dumbbell.

So They Say

In former wars we spoke of victory. Now we speak only of survival. — Stuart Symington, chairman National Security Resources Board.

We are paying in blood for the errors, the half-baked thinking, the misconceptions, the inaccuracy and half-truths, and in many cases, the arrogant disregard of sound military planning. —Rep. Paul W. Shafer, (R., Mich.)

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE RIGHT NOTE — If the number of budding musicians in Escanaba city schools is an indication, the musical future of the community is assured.

This observation follows the recent Escanaba Junior high school midwinter concert, presented by the band and violin class in that school, whose students are in the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth grades.

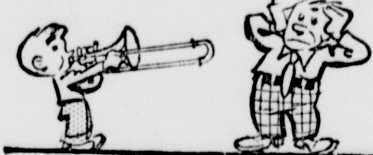

It is not only surprising that so many boys and girls play—but that they play so well.

The band was particularly effective in the vigorous march numbers that appeal to almost every audience. And what is a school without a good band?

BACK OF IT ALL—The progress in the band section of the school music program is outstanding.

Robert S. Meyer, director of instrumental music, would be the first to disclaim credit for this accomplishment. And no doubt he would tell you that student enthusiasm for band reflects the helpful interest of the parents, now organized as the Band Boosters.

For behind the music students are the parents who not only assist in providing the children with instruments but give them encouragement in their ambition to play well enough to become full-fledged band members.

The practice sessions at home may be anything but sweet music to the unbiased ear, but parents have enough faith in Junior to look beyond the faltering notes and picture their offspring under the spotlight at Carnegie Hall.

SCHOOL SPIRIT — Good school music does as much for that intangible but important factor termed school spirit as a winning football or basketball team.

The pride of a student in his school, expressed in terms of his interest in his studies and his participation in school affairs, is supported by exceedingly fine threads.

A good school band capable of playing rousing music strengthens one of the essential connections between the student body and the school. When that band marches down the street or out on the football field there is a stir of pride—"our band" is in the spotlight.

PARTICIPATION—Other threads woven into the supporting cord of school spirit include the debate team, the teams and individuals who compete in athletics, the group of musicians comprising the orchestra or the school dance band, and even the school wide competition of the annual magazine campaign.

In school music the band is resplendent in uniform, loud and rhythmic, and it leads the parade.

The band also offers opportunity to many students who might otherwise be uninterested in the school's music program. The element of participation is most important. Team work is learned as effectively in a music group as in athletics—and often is open to those who are unable to enter competitive sports.

CONSTRUCTIVE—Following the above we would like to present two gentle suggestions connected with school concerts.

Music enjoyment is enhanced for the audience by dimming the house lights, thus centering attention upon the stage and the musicians. Soloists should in reality, as well as figuratively, have the spotlight.

Into The Past

Escanaba—Several employees of the William Cleereman logging camp were questioned today by Sheriff Elmer Swanson in an investigation of a fight alleged to have occurred at the camp Sunday night. The fight started when one of the men threatened to "kill all the Frenchmen in the camp."

Keep Diet Habits,
Slim People
Have More Fun

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's how to slim down for spring—a simple and torturous seven-day diet written for NEA Beauty Editor Alicia Hart by Ann Williams-Heller, noted author and lecturer on reducing. She has written scores of reducing diets in national magazines and a number of books on healthful weight control. Her new "Reducer's Cook Book," just published by Wilfred Funk, Inc., includes more than 300 recipes and all simple directions for the weight-watcher in the streamlined kitchen. This is the last day of her medically-approved diet.

By ANN WILLIAMS-HELLER
Written for NEA Service

There can be no doubt that the slim person lives a healthier, longer life than the stout person. She feels better and has more fun, too. Therefore, once good food habits are formed, you'll want to keep them.

Remember, then, to distribute your daily food intake evenly among the day's three meals. You aren't going to want to continue losing weight but you do want to maintain your weight at an even keel. You don't want to slip back into your former bad habits and gain back what you've lost.

So, have a hearty breakfast each day. You're ready for a good meal after the night's fast. This former doesn't fall in with your former habits, when you either without breakfast or had just fruit juice and coffee in hope of keeping your weight down. A good breakfast will keep you from a mid-morning sweet roll and coffee with cream.

Have an ample luncheon and you won't work through the afternoon feeling tired and hungry. Then, you will have the remaining one-third of your daily quota for dinner, which should not be served too late at night.

While you need plenty of water at all times, don't drink large amounts at meals and don't use liquids to wash down your foods. And finally, be firm about disciplining yourself in the matter of sugars, starches and fats!

After using your waffle iron or sandwich grill, leave the grids open until they cool. This will help prevent unsightly, hard-to-clean deposits of burned fat.

Before arranging flowers in a vase, be sure to clip the stems if they have been in the air for any length of time after cutting.

An Attractive Ranch
House Designed For Comfort

Rooms	Seven
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Six
Cubage
House	20,500
Garage	3,300
Dimensions
House	56' x 29'
Garage	19' x 10'

A combination ranch type, the house is 56' long and has a projection in the front part of the living room. The projection gives this part of the living room the appearance of a sun room for it receives an abundance of sunshine. The porch provides a shelter in which to sit in the summer. If preferred, it could easily be glassed in to serve as another sun room during the winter months. A few plants growing here would add a cheerful note.

The gabled roof breaks the length of the house and makes it appear smaller than it actually is. The vertical lines provides architectural interest and contrast with the horizontal lines of the clapboards. A decorative touch is added to the entire house by the scalloped edges of the vertical boards joined with the eyebrow window.

A large living room with a fireplace and built-in bookshelves and a picture window; a dining room with two built-in china closets; three bedrooms provided with large closets; a kitchen and breakfast nook, complete with a handy L-shaped counter, and a laundry make up the rooms in this lovely home.

The entire second floor is a huge storage attic with access gained through the center back bedroom.

At least a 70' lot would be required for "The Wellsville" which has overall dimensions of 56' x 29' for the house and a cubic footage of 20,500'. The garage, which is attached to the house, has a cubic footage of 3,300'.

Both the front and side doors are located conveniently near the driveway.

Living Room
Upon entering the house you find yourself right in the living room. Light is provided by the French door, the window directly opposite, and the picture window which is flanked by case-ment windows in the front wall. There is a handy coat closet located in the inside wall opposite the dining room.

At the other end of the 16' x 13' 4" living room is a fireplace with built-in bookshelves on the left. The doorway, also located at this end of the room, opens on the hallway serving the three bedrooms and the bathroom.

Off the living room, through an archway at the left, is the dining room which measures 11' 6" x 9'. A window, overlooking the porch, is flanked by built-in china closets in each corner. Another window, overlooking the driveway, also helps make the room bright. Two doors are placed in the back wall; one leads to the kitchen and the other to the back bedroom.

Measuring 12' 6" x 11' the front bedroom has a huge closet on the front inside wall. Sufficient light and cross ventilation are provided by the two windows in the room.

The back bedroom is 11' 4" x 11' 6" and should also contain two windows and a good sized closet. Homemakers will be pleased by the large amount of wall space found in both these rooms.

Versatile Room

Located in the back of the house, the bathroom is convenient to all bedrooms. The back center bedroom, measuring 12' x 9' 6", is a versatile room that could easily be converted into a den or hobby room if a third bedroom isn't needed. Double windows are located on the back wall with the closet placed on the inside wall, back to the book shelves in the living room. Stairs to the storage attic lead up from the back left wall of the room.

Although the house plans show no door leading from this bedroom into the kitchen the owner could have one open near the broom closet at the top of the cellar stairs.

Completely modern, the kitchen is well lighted by a glass door, a window in the front wall over the sink, which is located in the center of the L-shaped counter space. The stove should be placed at one end of the counter with the door to the laundry at the opposite end. Cupboards are located both over and under the work counter.

With the refrigerator placed against the opposite wall the housewife won't have to waste any unnecessary steps in this conveniently laid-out kitchen measuring 11' 4" x 9' 6". Located by the front window, the breakfast nook is next to the outside

Senate Probers Uncover Racketeering In Detroit

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON—Of all the sor-did, sinister business uncovered by the Senate crime investigating committee, high on the list comes the story unfolded in Detroit recently showing how gangsters were employed by certain firms to bring aliens into the country and to break strikes. Gangster witnesses showed extraordinary ar-ran-gance, often de-lying, in the com-mit-tee and laughing at the obvious absurdity of their own evasion and denials.

But acting as a one-man sub-committee Senator Herbert R. O'Connor of Maryland did a thor-ough and persistent job in get-ting the story on the record in a remarkably short time. That re-cord is now being studied and the likelihood is for further Detroit hearings. Also it is being gone over for possible charges of perjury or contempt against the more de-fiant witnesses.

Not Exactly New
The phenomenon is not exactly new. It has been documented be-fore. Rarely before, however, has it been shown that gangsters were given lucrative industrial contracts which they had no apparent ca-pacity to perform. In reality they were being paid off, the investi-gators sought to show, to direct-goon squads that beat up union agents and officials.

Pete Licavoli, with a long crim-inal record, was given a contract by the Michigan Stove Works to haul scrap. Licavoli admitted that he could scarcely read or write English and had worked in the plant as a coremaker. Yet the con-tract brought him such fat profits he has a handsome house in fash-ionable Grosse Pointe and a mag-nificent ranch outside of Tucson, Arizona, in which he has invested $45,000.

As in other of the committee's hearings, it was shown that these characters who move between the underworld and the upper world make income tax returns brazenly setting down round sums, and big sums, attributed to "specu-lations." Thus in his 1948 tax re-turn Licavoli included "specu-lations, $49,000." He refused to an-swer any questions about this on the ground that he might incrim-inate himself.

Government Inactive
Apparently the Bureau of In-ternal Revenue has done little or nothing about these returns. In another era the intelligence unit of the bureau worked tirelessly to nail down the evidence against big spending gangsters with the result that Al Capone and a host of others went to jail.

Licavoli was questioned about his acquaintance with Senator Homer Capehart of Indiana. He admitted knowing him but denied that he had asked Capehart to intervene in behalf of Frank Cam-marata who had been deported and had illegally entered the coun-try again. The committee counsel then put a telegram to Cammarata in the record signed "Ray A. Donaldson, administrative assist-ant to Senator Capehart," saying Cammarata had been given a 90-day stay and it would therefore be unnecessary for him to appear in New York.

A similar contract for hauling scrap was given to Carl Renda by the Briggs Manufacturing com-pany. In the second year this was worth $100,000 to Renda even though exactly the same haulers continued to carry away the scrap. Renda's father-in-law is Sam Perrone, who had a hauling con-tract in another plant where there had been labor trouble.

One of the witnesses was Har-ry Bennett, who formerly held a key position with the Ford Motor Co. Bennett, now living on a lux-urious ranch at Desert Hot Springs in California, was asked numerous questions about his ac-quaintance with well-known hoodlums, and particularly about the recruiting of a goon squad at the time Ford was resisting union-ization by the United Auto Work-ers. Bennett, whose connection with the company ended shortly after Henry Ford II took over, was vague in most of his replies.

Reuther Shootings
Rumors have long persisted about the power of gangsters con-trolling the numbers racket as it operated among employees of the big motor companies. One theory behind the thus far unsolved mys-tery of the attempted assassina-tion of Walter Reuther, head of the UAW, and his brother, Vic-tor, was that they had tried to keep numbers racketeers from preying on UAW members.

Not long ago Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts dismissed con-tempt charges against a hoodlum who had pleaded self-incrimination when he appeared before the Kefauver committee. This was on constitutional grounds. On charges of contempt growing out of their refusal to answer questions as to membership in the Communist party, 60 witnesses, largely be-fore the House un-American ac-tivities committee, have been con-victed and sent to prison. They did not plead self-incrimination. If the plea of self-incrimination is to give blanket absolution, the efforts of the Kefauver committee will be gravely handicapped.

Whatever the final outcome, whether in legal action or in fu-ture legislation, the airing of the miserable business has been healthy. The hearings in Detroit were televised with great skill and thoroughness and on the tele-vision screen in several hundred thousand homes these figures out of gangland were seen in all their arrogant indifference to the pre-cesses of law. Photographs of their expensive homes were also shown. Thus the cost of this traffic in corruption was brought home to the citizen who in the last analy-sis pays the bill.

New Hormone Grows Hair On Two Men, Bald For 5 Years

The new hair hormone is closely allied with acth, one of the hormones for rheumatic arthritis and several other ailments. It will not be sold until there is further research.

Colleges Set Example For Bribing Athletes

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—There is much moaning and rending of garments over the basketball scandals, but for the life of me I do not see how you can blame the guilty players too much or too hard. They have merely projected a duplicity which, in major amateur athletics, is instigated by the col-leges which literally bribe them to play.

No greater living lie, for in-stance, exists than the general university system of recruiting athletes, especially football play-ers, and of keeping them on a pay roll of one kind or another while they play "amateur" ball. The professional amateur takes his dough under the table or around the corner from prep-school days on, and in time gets used to being bribed. Dough is dough, whether you get it from a rich alumnus or a gambler.

Shady College Deals
The professional football col-leges, the big schools, have in past been mixed up in some of the shadiest deals in the history of ethical violation. I remember one instance in which a major citi-del of culture was guilty of liter-ally "painting" a player, as a race horse's markings are altered to allow him to run as a ringer.

A coach from another college hol-dered copper out of sheer malice, although the masquerade of the tramp athlete did not concern him in the slightest.

We have already seen evidence of gamblers tampering in profes-sional football. They caught a few, but they have not been able to catch the main tools of the fix. One gallant athlete, still around, was so effective that the gamblers themselves at one time refused to lay odds on his team when this boy was in the lineup, because they never knew whether he was playing it straight or throwing it one way or the other.

There has been plenty of gam-ble-influence in minor league baseball. The boys were all set to invade major ball when the Al-vin Paris football disgracefulness happened, and so much uproar was raised that the laddies decid-ed to lay off for a while. There is no reason to exempt major base-ball from susceptibility to the fix. More money is bet on it than is bet on racing.

Baseball Men Bribable

There is a form sheet of past performance for baseball teams and players. The point-spread bet is heavily in vogue. Baseball is played by men. If you can hag basketball players and football players and minor league base-ball players, it stands to reason that the major boys are bribable, too—especially the bitter young men who make mean and measly salaries on cheap-wage teams.

If blame can be placed, in the current cynicism of sports, it first must attach to the institutions of learning and the amateur athletic associations which fed and tend-ed double-dealing and crooked standards in their eagerness to make big business out of the strong backs of young boys.

The million-dollar stadium schools have bought and paid for athletic stars as coldly as the scouts for professional teams. There have been instances in which a college star could not af-ford to quit education for the pros, because he was making more in college than out.

One college exerted political influence, actually, to have a man sprung from the armed services in order to use him as a player. All the old gags about being paid for winning the six-day clock or winning a monthly bet that the player cannot jump over a suit-case are true. Everything that you have heard about the amateur tennis bums is true—that is why they even refer to themselves as "bums."

This is why I cannot get too upset because a few kids take a good many dollars to throw a basketball game. Having been raised in a background of deceit and ethical double-standard the youngsters do not have to stretch their sensibilities too far to ac-cept bribes from gamblers. You can blame the athletes for dishon-esty, but the colleges should go to court and stand trial with them. Morally, the colleges are basically more guilty than the men.

Tractor School Date Is Changed

Session Set For March 1 At Cooks

The date for the tractor maintenance school, to be held at the Cooks school bus garage, has been changed from February 28 to March 1, it is reported by Clayton D. Reid, county agricultural agent.

The change in date was necessitated because of a conflict with a farm equipment show in Manistique.

The school will be held from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Robert White, agricultural engineering specialist for Michigan State College, will discuss preventive maintenance of farm tractors. Among the items he will cover are:

Air cleaners, fuel intake and carburetion, ignition and battery service, lubrication, cooling system service, and transmission and final drive.

Three leading makes of tractors will be available for the school. In addition to explaining the mechanical operation of these machines, White will use charts, cut away parts and motion pictures to illustrate his talk.

"This meeting will be very important to all farmers who own and operate tractors," Reid said.

Noon lunch will be served at the school.

Wanda Chapman, Big Rapids, Bride Of Harold Johnson

"White gladioli and pink carnations and a background of palms and white tapers were the setting for the marriage of Wanda Mae Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Chapman, of Big Rapids, to Harold Harding Johnson, son of Axel Johnson, of this city. The wedding took place in the First Methodist church in Big Rapids on Thursday evening, February 15, at 8 o'clock. Rev. James Bowker performed the ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Marilyn Fowler played a program of organ music and also played the accompaniments for Miss Maureen Cameron who sang "Because" and "Always."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and long sleeves. Her full skirt ended in a cathedral train. She wore a fingertip veil held in place with a Juliette cap. Her only jewelry was a double strand pearl necklace, gift of the groom. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations with a corsage center of red roses.

Marilyn Chapman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pastel green taffeta and a tiara of pink carnations. She carried a similar bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Miss Alma Mae Styf, of Zeeland, and Miss Valma Brabon, of Kalamazoo. Miss Styf wore a gown of pink taffeta and Miss Brabon wore velveta. Both gowns were similar to that of the maid of honor. They carried arm bouquets of carnations.

Edward Chapman, brother of the bride, was ringbearer and Joan Hastings was flower girl.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, Staff Sgt. Kenneth John Bucholtz, who was killed in action, Feb. 24, 1944.

He little thought when leaving home, That he in death so soon would sleep. And leave us here to mourn. We did not know what pain he bore, We did not see him die. We only know he passed away, And could not say goodbye.

In sad but loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Wilfred J. Couillard, who passed away one year ago today, Feb. 24, 1950.

Gone is the face we loved so dear, Silent is the voice we long to hear; Silent is the smile that used to cheer, But not too far for thought to reach. Sweet to remember him who once was here, And who, though absent, is just as dear.

Eskymo Cagers Beaten By Kingsford, 52-43

Looking ahead to the district tournament next week, Coach Steve Baltic hopes his Eskymo cagers got all the bad basketball out of their systems last night.

If not all, they got plenty as they lost to an aggressive but far from polished Kingsford crew, 52-43, before a small crowd at the junior high school gym. The season's windup left them with a record of five wins and nine losses.

The defeat leaves until tonight's Menominee - Marinette game outcome the fate of Escanaba's position in the tournament drawings. If Menominee beats Marinette, Escanaba will lose the seeded spot.

Eskymos Are "Off"
Last night the Eskymos just couldn't seem to do much right. Their rebound work was the poorest it has been this year. Their passing was sloppy and their shooting off. Despite all this, they made a game of it all the way.

In the first period, when the Eskymos' rebound work was at its worst, Kingsford worked up a 17-9 lead, largely through the shooting of Nick Massie, who got 11 points in the period.

With Jim Heiden and Paul Gundersman showing the way and improved backboard work, the Eskymos played their best ball in the second period to make up the big deficit and tie up the game at 23-all on a field goal by Gundersman. The period ended 26-25 in favor of Kingsford.

Early in the third period, the Eskymos went ahead, 27-26, on Heiden's field goal, the first time they had taken the lead since early in the first period. But Carl Jones put Kingsford ahead with a shot from the floor and that was the last time the Eskymos held the whip hand.

Heiden Nets 19
Kingsford worked the score to 30-31 at the three quarter mark and played control ball to a degree in the final quarter. Five points was the closest Escanaba came in the final period.

Heiden paced the Eskymos with 19 points and his efforts were tied by Jones for Kingsford. Nick Massie hit for 17 points for runner up honors.

In the preliminary, the Eskymo reserves defeated the junior high school, 35-16 with Paul Menard getting 10 points for the winners.

The officials, Al Rudness of Negaunee and George Rudness of Ishpeming, turned in one of the best performances seen on the local floor this year.

Rapid River Five Upsets Trenary Quint

TRENARY — Rapid River pulled an upset here last night, outscoring Trenary 17-6 in the final quarter to tip the Algers, 47-43.

Trenary had a 37-30 margin going into the final period but Dale Gibson, classy Rapid River guard, led an uprising against a weakening home town team and won going away.

Gibson scored 20 points to cop scoring honors. John Hicks, Trenary forward, netted 17 points before going out on fouls and Bill Kallio added 12.

The Trenary guards, Donald Hill and Richard Rukilla, played despite the fact that they had been ill all week. Hill and Ronald Trudell, seniors, played their last home basketball game for Trenary.

Rapid River reserves won the preliminary game, 47-43.

Will the Upper Peninsula teams have a chance at state basketball titles this year?

Everyone seems to think Ishpeming and Brimley, which won state titles in Classes B and D last year and which are undefeated (at this writing), will have a chance.

If they do, they will be the first Upper Peninsula teams to repeat state championships.

In fact, counting the victories of Ishpeming and Brimley last year, the Upper Peninsula has produced only seven state championships in the 10 years the teams have been competing below the straits.

Besides last year's winners, Negaunee, headed by the Rudness-Gleason-Doolittle combination, won the class B state title in 1930. Iron Mountain, with Ronzani-Dyer-Colontonic combination, won in 1928 (the year the Mountaineers were nosed out for the U. P. title by the class C champs, Baraga of Marquette.)

In class C, Newberry won in 1926, the only U. P. class C team to come through a state tournament. Three U. P. class D teams have won state titles, Brimley last year, Mass in 1948 and Michigamme in 1926. A near-miss was Rock which lost to Clarksville in the finals in 1930.

Just for the record, from 1932 to 1947 U. P. teams did not go downstate... class B U. P. champs in that span were in this order: Ishpeming, Iron Mountain, Ishpeming, Ishpeming, Iron River, Ironwood, Ishpeming, Iron Mountain, Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie, Iron River, Escanaba, Marquette, Escanaba and Bessemer.

Class C champs in that span were Lake Linden, Newberry, Gwinn, Gwinn, Norway, Newberry, Crystal Falls (six times in a row), L'Anse, Norway, Norway.

In class D, winners were Palmer, Alpha, Alpha, Trout Creek, Channing, Trout Creek, Berglund, Berglund, Hermansville, Chatham-Eben, Hermansville, Channing, Vulcan, Rock, and Mass.

Since class E was started in 1941, champions have been Palmer, Palmer, Amasa, Bergland, Alpha and Bergland.

Rapid River, Nahma Get Seeded Spots

Vulcan and Rapid River in class D and Nahma and Trenary in class C have won seeded positions in the district basketball tournament which opens next Wednesday night at Rock.

Tournament drawings were made this morning in the Daily Press editorial rooms.

Vulcan has a record of eight

Cooks Upsets Bark River 5 By 51 and 43

BARK RIVER—Despite the individual efforts of Joe LaVigne, sophomore center, who scored 18 points, Bark River-Harris succumbed to Cooks 51-43, in the season's windup game here last night.

LaVigne's scoring efforts were topped by Keith Cutler, Cooks sharpshooter, who netted 26 points.

The game was nip and tuck the first quarter with Cooks edging to a 26-20 lead at half time. Bark River cut the margin by four points in the third period but collapsed in the last quarter.

Delaware Signs Davey Nelson

NEWARK, Del. — (P)—Former Michigan star David M. Nelson, 30-year-old head football coach at the University of Maine, today was appointed the new football coach and athletic director at the University of Delaware.

Nelson, graduate of the University of Michigan where he played in the backfield with All-America Tommy Harmon a decade ago, succeeds William D. Murray.

Murray resigned both positions at Delaware last month to accept the head football coaching position at Duke.

In two years of coaching at Maine, Nelson's teams won seven, lost five and tied two games. He previously was head coach at Hillsdale (Mich.) college where, in 1946 and 1947, his clubs compiled a record of 14 victories, one defeat and two ties.

He was backfield coach and chief scout at Harvard in 1948. Nelson used both the single wing and the T-formation at Maine.

Under Murray the Blue Hens of Delaware originally played the double wing, then shifted to the T and the single wing T.

EBEN — Rock's Little Giants closed their season on a favorable note here last night, defeating Eben, 61-51, to avenge an earlier four point defeat by the locals.

Every Rock player broke into the scoring column, with Don Sjryanen and Bill Westlund leading the way. Sjryanen got 17 points and Westlund 16 points. The latter went out on fouls late in the game.

Bill Kallio, sensational Eben forward who has been ill, was back in the game and netted 15 points but his total was topped by Bill Sturivist who hit 16 points.

St. Paul Plays St. Joe In Windup Here Tonight

Joe Louis Wins; Ready for Champ

SAN FRANCISCO — (P)—Joe Louis, winner of his toughest fight since he came out of retirement last September, said today he was ready for a return match for the heavyweight championship with Ezzard Charles.

The Brown Bomber scored a technical knockout over stout-hearted Andy Walker in the final round of their scheduled 10-rounder at the Cow palace last night.

A sell-out crowd of 18,000 fans, accounting for official gate receipts of $92,087.50, saw Louis batter the rangy San Francisco Negro round after round until he was arm-weary. It was his fourth win in his campaign to come back after being soundly drubbed by Charles in a 15-round bout for the title he once held.

Everything in the Book

Louis hit Walker with about every punch in the book he couldn't floor him. He knocked the San Francisco fighter, who holds the California state title, into the ropes four times. In the final session, he caught Walker with a flurry of blows that had the California champ reeling. Referee Frankie Brown stopped the contest in 1:49 of the tenth. There was some booing by Walker fans, who thought he could have finished the battle.

After the match, Walker said he was sorry the fight was stopped but he wouldn't question the decision of the referee.

Louis said he finished "fresh" and added, "my wind held good. My timing still was a little off. I felt better at 207 pounds (Walker weighed 194) than at the 216 I've been fighting at. The new two-inch padding rule in this state slowed me up. It's much easier on one-inch padding.

Charles' Spar Mate

"I don't need another fight before I meet Charles again. Walker takes a punch better than Charles. I tried to knock him out from the first round. I landed only three good straight rights, all to the body, because he stayed in so close and held on.

"I think this was my toughest come-back fight and it helped me more than any other."

In three previous come-back fights Louis scored 10-round decisions over Cesar Brion and Omelio Agramonte and stopped Freddie Beshore in the fourth round.

Walker, who once served as Charles' sparring partner, said the present champion is a better boxer than Louis and is faster but he declined to predict the outcome of their next title match.

Wolverine Sextet Whips Nodaks, 11-4

ANN ARBOR — (P)—The University of North Dakota took an 11-4 hockey licking last night from the University of Michigan.

The two teams met here again tonight and the Wolverines will be out for their 17th victory in 22 starts.

Johnny McKennel pulled the hat trick for Michigan, getting one goal in the first period and two more in the second. The Wolverines piled up a 9-3 edge at the end of the second period.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

San Francisco—Joe Louis, 207, Detroit, stopped Andy Walker, 194, San Francisco, 10.

New York—Fitzie Pruden, 147½, Patterson, N. J., outpointed Tony Janiro, 134½, Youngstown, 10.

Manchester, England—Pierre Montane, 135, France, knocked out Billy Thompson, 135, England, 12.

Hollywood—Fred Herman, 136, Los Angeles, outpointed Emil Barao, 136½, Oakland, Calif., 10.

Hawks' Week-End Games Postponed

Unseasonably warm weather has caused postponement of two hockey games scheduled for this week by the Escanaba Hawks.

The games were to have been at Portage Lake tonight and against Calumet on the local rink tomorrow.

Tony Bukovich of Portage Lake called this morning and said the ice there is in no shape for a game. While the local rink has ice, the weather prediction for tomorrow is for a temperature of about 38 to 40 with possible showers, leaving it doubtful whether the ice would be in shape to play.

Efforts will be made to reschedule the games because of their importance in the league playoffs.

Anderson Paces Emeralds To Win Over Gladstone

MANISTIQUE — Jerry Anderson, Little Emerald forward, was as hot as a pistol in the basketball game here last night as he paced Manistique to a one point victory, 33-27, over the Gladstone Braves.

Anderson scored eight field goals and three free throws, his final bucket with a minute and a half left in the fourth quarter giving the Emeralds their slender win.

Twice after that he passed up free throws to take the ball out of bounds.

Like the game last week against Escanaba this was another for the basketball archives. The lead changed 10 times, four in the final stanza, and the score was knotted four times.

MANISTIQUE PLAYS AT STEPHENSON

Manistique winds up its season tonight at Stephenson. Five seniors will be playing their last game. They are Jerry Anderson, Dick Burns, Gerald Popow, Don Quick and Jack Reque.

The Emeralds watched towering Phil Cretin, six foot six inch Gladstone center, like a hawk but he still managed to slip in five short shots under the basket, three of them shifting the Braves into the lead.

Braves Opens Scoring

Tom Moreau scored first, dropping in a field bucket seconds after the center jump, but Anderson connected to tie the count in less than a minute. The Braves then took a 5-3 margin with a field goal and a free throw by Cretin, but the gap was closed when Bob McNamara netted a long toss following a free throw by Don Quick. The score was tied again when free tosses by Cretin and Moreau followed another long bucket by McNamara.

Thereafter the Emeralds forged ahead to a 16-11 margin as the first stanza ended.

Cling to Lead

The Emeralds still clung to a five point margin, 21-15, in the middle of the second period, but the Braves almost knotted the tally at 21-20 when John Syverson dropped one in, Joe Sutter scored after a spectacular floor-length dribble, and Moreau connected with a free toss. The Emeralds managed to hold a margin edge with free throws by McNamara and George Hough. Cretin dropped in a free throw as the stanza ended at 23-21.

For several minutes in the third period the lead see-sawed after

Jim LaLonde scored on a pass from the center jump and knotted the count at 23-23. Manistique pushed its margin to 29-25 but the Braves sliced it to 20-25 as the quarter ended.

The Emeralds called time out as Cretin tipped in a field bucket at the start of the fourth to give the Braves a one point margin. McNamara changed the lead again with a toss from mid-floor, but the Emerald defense got sucked out of position, enabling Moreau to drop in a bucket unmolested under the laces.

Gladstone Takes Lead

Cretin tipped in another from his offense spot under the basket, pushing the Braves ahead, 32-35. With two and one-half minutes left, Anderson connected twice with field goals to change the margin, but Gladstone forged ahead once more, 37-33, as Syverson scored. It was Gladstone's last tally. LaLonde missed a free throw with two minutes to go, and Anderson sank his final bucket.

et to decide the issue. For the next 90 minutes the Emeralds managed to stall and hold their one-point edge.

Cretin paced the Braves with 13 points. McNamara, with five field goals and a free throw, trailed Anderson for Emerald scoring honors.

In last week's action Wait Window grabbed an overtime thriller from a strong National Guard five, 49 to 46. Kiwanis Club surprised Clairmont Transfer, 31 to 23, in another close game.

Dorm Kitchen Fund Pledged

Covenant Auxiliary To Equip New Hall

Raising of $30,000 for kitchen and dining room equipment for Sahlberg Hall, new dormitory for girls at North Park College, Chicago, has been chosen by the Covenant Woman's Auxiliary as its 1950-52 project.

The new dormitory, ground for which was broken July 11, 1950 and which is expected to be ready for occupancy for the Covenant annual meeting in June of this year, is named in honor of Miss Helen A. Sahlberg who has served as teacher, counselor and dean of women at North Park College since 1920.

When completed the building will provide a home for 99 girls and a dining hall seating 425 persons.

The entire English basement of the new dormitory will be used as a dining hall. The hall is designed so that it can be subdivided into three separate rooms. A large kitchen laid out in accordance with the best professional advice will be "the delight of the staff preparing and serving the food". It is planned to accommodate future Covenant annual conferences in this dining hall.

A brochure prepared on the project carries a number of illustrations including an artist's conception of the new dormitory, drawings of the dining hall and lounge, a picture of Miss Sahlberg and a picture of the partially completed dormitory.

A. T. Sahlberg, city, is a brother of Miss Sahlberg.

Reds Shift Top Man In Korea

Gen. Lin May Direct Invasion Of Asia

ON THE WEST CENTRAL FRONT, Korea — (P)—The man reputed to be Red China's ablest field commander, Gen. Lin Piao, was reported by a reliable source today to have been shifted from command of Chinese Communist forces in Korea.

This source said Lin, the famed "Manchurian hammer" reportedly had been shifted to South China as commander of the south and central military districts.

(While Lin's army has taken a fearful beating in Korea, the shift in no way means he has fallen from grace in Peiping.)

(Peiping announced Jan. 8 that Lin had been given virtual control over four central-south China provinces. Hong Kong observers figure Lin is the central figure in any plans which the Chinese Reds have in mind for south-east Asia.)

The same source said Gen. Peng Teh-huai, deputy commander-in-chief of all Chinese Red armies, is the new leader of the Chinese Fourth Field Army in Korea. Peng has the title of commander-in-chief of the Chinese Communist army's expeditionary force in Korea.

Prospects Better For Small Business, U-M Man Believes

ANN ARBOR—The chances of small businesses staying open in the current mobilization period are much better than in the early days of World War II, reports Dr. William M. Hoat at the University of Michigan.

Small business is more alert to getting defense contracts now than in the 1940s, Dr. Hoat, research associate in the School of Business Administration says. Part of the reason for this is that the government is more interested in helping the small business men.

"Big business is more aware of their need for small business to handle a large portion of the subcontracting work on defense orders. This will keep a lot of small outfits going when their regular business disappears because of shortages."

The present advantages that small business has are fourfold, according to Dr. Hoat: (1) making a business of service and convenience where those are important; (2) making custom built or tailor made things; (3) making super-standard or sub-standard things that big business can't mass produce; (4) flexibility of operation so changes in production or parts can be made almost immediately.

A war economy may force some service and convenience businesses to disappear because of shortages of labor and material or rationing, he asserts. However, those businesses that fall into categories two and three stand a good chance of surviving because industry and the military often need these services.

Flexibility is a great advantage to small business men in these times. "In a short time they can change the emphasis in their business to meet the changing situation. Big business lacks this flexibility," Dr. Hoat points out.

Senate Turns Down Prof. Casey Wiggins For Job At Ferris

LANSING — (P)—The Senate Thursday refused to confirm Gov. Williams' appointment of Prof. Casey C. Wiggins of northern Michigan College of Education as a member of the board of control of Ferris Institute.

The vote was 5 "yes" and 16 "no," with a number not voting. When Democrats defended Wiggins as an alumnus and friend of Ferris Institute, Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Fenville) elaborated slightly on the reasons why his senate business committee recommended rejection.

"It has been reliably reported to our committee from sources we respect," Hutchinson said, "that Mr. Wiggins' approach to the job has not been in the best interests of the institution, but more of a selfish nature. We are told that one of the first things he did was to start negotiations to seek a job for himself on the staff of Ferris. We understand the general feeling in the community in which he lives is that the appointment was not thought a good one."

Detroit Woman Held For Setting Fire Which Killed Boy, 6

DETROIT—(P)—Mrs. Katherine Quick, 21, accused of setting a fire in which a six-year-old boy died, has been ordered held for trial on a first degree murder charge.

Recorder's Judge Paul E. Krause took the action at a hearing yesterday.

Detroit Couple Held In $93,000 Diamond Swindle

DETROIT — (P)—A Detroit couple accused of a $93,000 diamond swindle were held today under heavy bond for federal court examination March 9.

Efraim Lishansky, 32, known here as Theodore Gilbert and his wife, Doris, 24, said they would not try to make the $25,000 set yesterday by Federal Judge Thomas P. Thornton.

Mental Hospital Expansion Calls For $14,592,000

LANSING — (P)—The legislature will be asked next week to spend $14,592,000 at once from a $65,000,000 bond issue for mental hospital construction and planning.

A legislative committee studying the mental health problem said it would report next week, recommending that $13,988,000 be spent to build 2,444 new mental hospital beds and $604,000 be allotted to plan for 960 more beds.

The committee said it also would recommend operating fund expenditures for two new child guidance clinics and one more adult clinic.

The recommendations include $595,000 for a 100-bed children's unit at the Newberry State hospital.

Liquor Control And Legislators Good Pals Again

a loyal Democrat from Hamtramck; David M. Martin of Flint, an old-line Democrat in spirit if not in years; and Harry Henderson of Detroit, a Republican left-over who couldn't make up his mind whether he wanted to get along or not.

This is the team which kept trying to fire Louis A. Kunzig, as commission director and got itself smeared with newspaper ink every time.

This is the team which seemed to be so understanding of little mistakes by liquor licensees that it couldn't bear to even slap their wrists.

This is the team which fell so far behind in its enforcement hearings that its files looked like the historical commission's.

This is the team which probably brought the Democratic administration of Governor Williams more bad publicity than anything else.

Two months have changed all that. Kunzig is back on the job and a lot of people are happier whether it makes any difference or not.

The commission and the legislative liquor committees consort together weekly and eat from the same plate.

The legislators say: "George, don't you think we ought to raise liquor license fees a little?" And Burke beams back: "By gum, I was just going to suggest that very thing. Funny how our minds run the same, isn't it?"

Burke says: "Say, now fellas, I wonder if you'd mind if we cracked down on some of these bad boys in the business just a mite?" And the lawmakers reply: "By gosh, I think you've got something there, George old fellow."

And the funny thing is that it seems to be working out well.

The wisecrackers say that Milham slips out occasionally and reads the mileage on the state-owned cars driven by commission employees. Whether he does or not, he's got his eyes on the pennies—a long neglected object at the liquor commission.

Keep Wolves Quiet If Burke can keep the outer wolves away and Milham subdue the inner wolves, they'll make quite a team.

Reportedly, Kozaren has become a bundle of punctuality now that there are folks around to set a good example.

These are all such ordinary kinds of virtue that the taxpayers may wonder why they aren't practiced regularly. But the liquor commission has been markedly missing many of these virtues in past years.

The honeymoon may not last forever. In fact, it is axiomatic that the liquor commission—by the very nature of its business—will get in trouble occasionally. But it certainly seems to have gotten off on the right track. It is building a reserve of good will for the bad days ahead.

And Burke is showing the same political adeptness of his late father, the man who steered the state civil service commission through many a rough shoal and stood as one of the best minds of the Democratic party in Michigan for many years.

It's good that government can find chips of the old block where the grain runs the same as the parent stock.

Survivors Of Sunken Norwegian Freighter Sighted Off Iwo Jima

TOKYO—(P)—Far East air force headquarters reported the sighting today of survivors from the lost Norwegian freighter Florentine.

A weather plane radioed that it spotted them at 3 p. m. (1 a. m. EST) adrift in a lifeboat about 275 miles southwest of Iwo Jima.

A B-29 superfort was dispatched from Guam. It carried a dropable lifeboat equipped with food, water and medicine.

The navy tug Takelma was steaming under full draft for the area. It was expected to reach the lifeboat within 13 hours of the sighting.

The Takelma was 130 miles north of the lifeboat when the survivors were located.

The Florentine, bound for San Francisco from the Philippines, sank in a storm south of Iwo Jima in midweek after being abandoned.

Four-Mile Subway Opened In Chicago

CHICAGO — (P)—Chicago's second subway, four miles long and built at a cost of $39,600,000 over the last 12 years, is ready for operation.

The new unit in Chicago's public transportation system, the Milwaukee-Dearborn-Congress subway, connects the loop and the northwest side.

Four hours later the first quad was born. The last was delivered about five minutes later.

The quads—two boys and two girls—weighed about four pounds each. They are Mrs. Pappas' first children.

The husband, Edward Pappas, also 28, is employed by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. The Pappas live in an apartment in the Colgate section of Baltimore.

McEwen Breaks American Mark

ANN ARBOR — (P)—Don McEwen's new American two-mile indoor dirt track record performance overshadowed all other events in Michigan's handy 72-42 indoor track victory over Michigan State Normal last night.

The Wolverines' dark-haired speedster from Ottawa, Ont., covered the distance in 9:04.6, shaving more than two seconds from the mark that he himself set here a year ago. His time then was 9:06.9.

Normal, although one of the best small college track teams in the country, couldn't match the depth of the Wolverine squad.

Michigan took seven of 12 finals, and in the high and low hurdles and the two-mile the Hurons couldn't even manage a show position.

Victor in both hurdles events, Michigan Captain Don Hoover twice missed varsity and field-house records by a tenth of a second. His time was :08.1 in high hurdles and :07.5 in the low.

Wolverine Doug Parks won the mile in 4:20.7.

Normal's Jim Bibbs topped his team's efforts with a :06.4 win in the 60-yard dash, two tenths of a second short of tying the record, and a first place tie with Lowell Perry of Michigan in the high jump. Each jumped five feet 10 3-4 inches.

The Hurons also took the shot put, 440, and one-mile relay.

Mrs. Peron Lines Up Women For Mr. Peron In Argentine Campaign

BUENOS AIRES—(P)—Leading a delegation of women voters, Mrs. Eva Peron called on President Juan D. Peron last night and gave him a political slap on the back.

The feminine branch of the Peronist party, which Mrs. Peron heads, came out four days ago for the re-election of the president for another six-year term. The "draft Peron" campaign is mushrooming.

Argentina's first lady and her delegation were received last night as part of the celebrations marking the fifth anniversary of Peron's victorious 1946 election. Women will vote in an Argentine National election for the first time in 1952.

Argentina's 95-year-old constitution was changed last year, at Peron's request, to make a president eligible to succeed himself in office.

Baby Swept To Death In Kalamazoo River

ALBION, Mich.—(P)—Eighteen-month-old Leslie Ann Engstrom of Battle Creek toddled into the flooding Kalamazoo river here yesterday and was swept to her death.

The boiling waters of the river swept the child through the business district of Albion. The child's body was found last night, lodged in a tree fork two miles from where she waded into the river.

Leslie Ann had been playing in the backyard at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Engstrom. Her mother, Mrs. Paul V. Engstrom, and a woman friend were chatting in front of the home when the child toddled around the side and apparently on into the river at the rear of the backyard.

Baby Quadruplets Paying For Their Home At Pontiac

PONTIAC — (P)—The Rosebush quadruplets, all of six weeks old, have earned enough money to keep a roof over their heads.

Their father, Kenneth Rosebush, yesterday paid off a mortgage on the family home, saving it from foreclosure.

He used money the quads were paid for lending their name to advertisements of a canned (Pet) Milk company and money from donations.

The milk company contract, worth $29,000, specifically earmarked $3,000 for housing. With an additional $349 Rosebush was able to meet the payment on the 34-year-old building.

The quads, two boys and two girls, are at home now, in a nursery converted out of the living room. Their father, who was jobless when they were born, now is working for a grocery store.

Ruffled Britannia To Be Soothed On Sea Command Setup

LONDON — (P)—An informed source said yesterday all this fuss over the announcement an American will head the North Atlantic treaty naval forces is premature. He implied Britannia's ruffled feelings will be soothed when the whole sea command system is explained.

Winston Churchill's charges in the House of Commons Thursday that naval-conscious Britain had been brushed off by the appointment of Adm. William M. Fechteler, commander in chief of the U. S. Atlantic fleet, raised an angry howl in this nation.

The Anti-Labor Evening Standard contended Prime Minister Attlee was hampered in replying to Churchill in that he could not give a complete picture of all the appointments.

Attlee is restudying the whole question and will make a statement in parliament soon aimed at bolstering Britain's naval pride.

Auto Prices May Be Adjusted By OPS

WASHINGTON — (P)—The manufacturers' price of automobiles may be "adjusted" in a general price order on manufactured goods now being prepared by the office of price stabilization (OPS), it was learned today.

An OPS official who asked not to be named said prices of some cars may go up in the contemplated order, while others may go down.

Right now car prices at the factory are frozen at the Dec. 1 level. But the order freezing them expires March 1. Presumably the new order will be ready before March 1.

Truman Will Take 23-Day Vacation At Key West, Florida

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman is going down to Florida next Friday for at least a 23-day vacation.

The president, urged by close associates for a long time to get away for a rest, will go to the "Summer White House" at Key West, for the first time in just about a year.

But it won't be all play and no work for the president. He'll conduct his official duties, just like always, his White House press secretary said yesterday in announcing the trip. One thing, though, there won't be any White House callers.

Strikes Idle 70,000 Workers In Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile—(P)—Widespread strikes crippled Chile today, and the government alerted armed forces for emergency action.

The Confederation of Non-Government Employees (CEPACH) said last night 20,000 were idle in Santiago and 50,000 in other cities. The strikers are demanding higher wages.

In Santiago, the strike so far has affected only transportation facilities. The government seized the bus system and put armed troops aboard both buses and trolleys.

This action was taken after several shots were fired at a loaded bus, following a demonstration at the headquarters of the United Nations economic and social council now in session here.

In a press conference preceding the dinner, McCarthy continued his attack on Washington columnist Drew Pearson.

Big Offensive In Korea Pushed By U. S. Troops

there was little action.

Pressure Continues

Under pressure by 100,000 men of six Allied nations, the Chinese were withdrawing slowly toward a new defense line cutting across mountains north of Hoengsong.

Planes, tanks, artillery and warships—including the battleship Missouri—teamed up in keeping the four-day-old Allied drive rolling in Central Korea.

C-119 flying boxcars parachuted ammunition for the guns and gasoline for the tanks when supply trucks bogged down on muddy mountain roads.

The Missouri's 16-inch guns touched off a tremendous explosion during a bombardment near Songjin, on the northern coast 185 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Enemy Arms Destroyed

The direct hit destroyed a warehouse filled with ammunition intended for the hard-pressed Reds on the central front. Flames of the explosion rose 100 feet, smoke for 400 feet.

A massive barrage by artillery, tanks and planes blasted Reds out of a mountain pass today on the east flank of the 60-mile central front.

The Reds offered stiff rear guard resistance. On the approach to a new mountain defense line north of Hoengsong and Chipyong.

That 20-mile segment of the front defends Hongchong, a Red assembly and communication hub. United Nations-held Chipyong, 40 miles east of Seoul, is the point where an encircled French and American combat team helped break the back of a Chinese counteroffensive last week.

Hoengsong, 20 miles east of Chipyong, was imperiled Friday by American forces who occupied hills overlooking the highway center.

Airlift Speeds Supplies

Some 15,000 Reds had been expected to stand or die in Hoengsong. But a field report today from Eighth army headquarters said the Reds appeared more likely to make that stand north of the war-torn town.

Twenty-five miles east of Hoengsong, American troops cut a vital east-west road bisecting the Korean peninsula. Capping a 10-mile advance on the east flank, the Americans reached the road near the town of Pangnim.

This advance was made possible by the air, artillery and tank barrage that routed entrenched Reds guarding a mountain pass south of Pangnim.

Elsewhere Red counter-attacks against the efforts of four American divisions, plus British, Australian, Canadian, New Zealand and South Korean forces.

General MacArthur yesterday ordered a huge airlift to keep the offensive clicking. The C-119 flying boxcars dropped around 300 tons of supplies yesterday. The operation was stepped up today.
